A Glades Central Community High School freshman, father of a two-year-old boy, was shot and killed just before midnight Saturday night.

Willie James Police, 17, had been attending a Valentine's Day dance at Belle Glade Municipal Civic Center and was shot while outside the building preparing to leave.

The shooting ended a week-long dispute with another juvenile, authorities said.

Belle Glade Police Department officials said Mr. Police and another 17-year-old had been feuding all week and violence erupted when the two saw each other at the dance.

Two other juveniles were also injured, one seriously.

Rufus Leon Williams, 18, was treated at Glades General Hospital for a gunshot wound to the hand and admitted.

Another juvenile, a 17-year-old male, was taken by Trauma Hawk to St. Mary's Hospital where he was listed as being in stable condition Tuesday.

Mr. Police had been shot in the chest and upper right arm and was taken by ambulance to Glades General Hospital where he died about 12:40 a.m. Sunday.

He was the father of two-year-old Willie James Police III.

Miller Mortuary in Belle Glade is in charge of arrangements. Burial will be at Foreverglades Cemetery.

Visitation will be Friday from 5 p.m. till 8 p.m. and the funeral will be Saturday at noon at St. Paul Church of God in Christ.

Another 17-year-old was in police custody, according to Belle Glade Police Lt. Jack Fulenwider.

The center had been scheduled for use as a wedding reception, said Lt. Fulenwider, but was not used for that purpose.

It is not known how the dance came to be held there. Lt. Fulenwider said the investigation is continuing.

National Guard moving out of Belle Glade by September 1

By BRENDA BUNTING
SUN Editor

National Guardsmen in Belle Glade will be packing their duffel bags and moving out for good by September 1, according to Lt. Col. Ken Forrester, public affairs officer at the Florida National Guard headquarters in St. Augustine.

The move is part of a national movement to downsize the Guard.

The Belle Glade unit on South Main Street has about 35 men, according to Sgt. Dean Terrell, who has been at the Belle Glade Armory since 1984. They are all being transferred to West Palm Beach.

"It's going to be frustrating for everyone for a while," said Col. Forrester, "but we were going to try to work with them."

Sgt. Terrell said "We haven't gotten anything in writing yet. We just found out about it the other day. Many of my men are upset."

Only a few of the men say they will transfer to West Palm Beach. Sgt. Terrell said 28 of the 35 live in the Glades.

"We're just like a big family. The National Guard here is part of the community," he said. "We participate in parades and anytime the community calls, we're there."

One of Sgt. Terrell's concerns is the dike around the lake. He said if there were problems with the dike, his men are close enough to be of immediate use. "We can respond a lot quicker,"

Lake Okeechobee Bike Classic and festival are this weekend

By PAULA WHITEHEAD

Habitat for Humanity Glades chapter will host the first Lake Okeechobee Classic Bike ride and Old Fashioned Festival on Saturday Feb. 20.

Bikers will start arriving at the Pahokee dike around 5 a.m., to prepare for a ride that will take them from Pahokee to Clewiston and back to Pahokee.

An entry fee of $35 is required to enter the bike ride.

Cyclists will be allowed to ride on top of the dike or on the highway. All riders are required to wear a safety helmet.

On the return, there will be an old-fashioned festival going on at the dike from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

There will be lots of fun, music and food at the festival. Entertainment will include Gator Bait Band; Vickie Silvers; and Wallstreet, who used to play for Kenny Rogers and presently have their own album out.

Senator Mark Foley and County Commissioner Ken Foster will be present to cut the ribbon starting the festival.

There will be all kinds of arts and crafts on display along with the Fly Wheelers demonstration. The day holds lots of fun and fellowship for all, with free pony rides for the kids and hay rides for everyone and lots more.

The festival and bike ride is being held as a fund raiser for the Habitat for Humanity, an organization that helps people help themselves and others by helping to build housing for families and helping to restore homes for the elderly.

It is a Christian organization and although the labor on the housing comes from friends, neighbors, and other participants of the habitat, is done free for the love of mankind.

The building materials are still costly so the organization has to have fund raisers to be able to provide the materials needed for the housing.

People from Western Palm Beach County and Hendry County have gotten together with the Habitat for Humanity division out of the West Palm area and are forming a chap-

U.S. Sugar says phosphorus reduction is working

Less than one year after farmers presented an alternative strategy for revitalizing the Everglades, U.S. Sugar Corporation reported it has put in place an extensive on-farm phosphorus reduction program that is showing significant progress in cleaning farm water runoff.

"We promised a year ago that we would immediately begin has removing the phosphorus in our water and not wait for resolution of the battle over the Everglades SWIM plan," said Robert H. Baker, senior vice president of U.S. Sugar. "We have been going forward with a plan which will help protect the Everglades ecosystem and at the same time protect tens of thousands of jobs associated with agriculture in South Florida."

While it is still too early to make final projections, U.S. Sugar reports a 43 percent reduction in phosphorus from water leaving its farms as a result of on-farm programs. The data period is from May to December 1992.

The program, initiated at a cost of several million dollars,

The Wanna Bees are tired of toting an extra load. So are the Gut Busters, the Fat City Rollers and a group called Thunder Thighs.

Glades General Hospital Dietician Sue Maggio says they're waging a war on fat at the hospital - and winning.

Twenty-eight teams of dieters have been working for a month to lose unwanted pounds. They are following the American Heart Association's guidelines using one of their Heart At Work programs.

"We're having a ball," said Ms. Maggio, who added that altogether the 87 people in the program have lost 398 pounds.

"We did a survey in the fall and what most people here wanted was dieting and exercise classes," said Ms. Maggio.

Employees said they wanted to lose weight and that they wanted counseling and classes during working hours or right after work.

"So we wrote menus with 1,200 to 1,300 calories, geared to the realities of life. It's not a rabbit food diet," said Maggio.

There are four husband and wife teams in the program and several are hospital employee family members or friends.

Participants weigh in every Friday. The only official weigh-ins are the first one and the last one. That big event will be in two weeks.

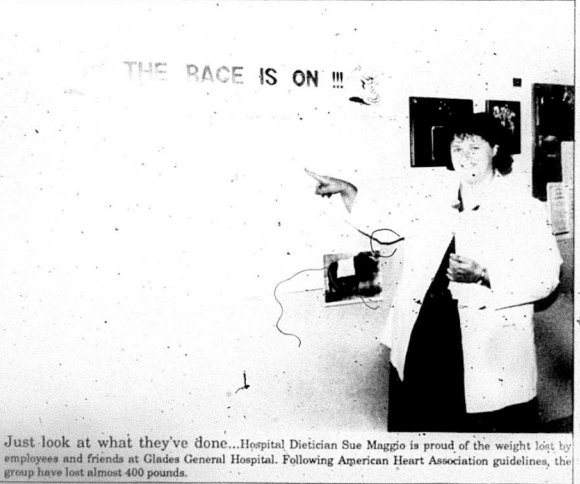

"Some are being secretive and waiting until the last minute to call in their weight," she said.

"We even gave credit to one person who needs to gain weight," Maggio said.

"Twelve got sympathy cards," she added.

At the beginning of the program everyone was given a packet of information on how to diet. Every two weeks, classes are conducted by Maggio.

One of the classes was on how to reduce your fat by reading labels. Another class was a cooking demonstration. Michelle Young gave a class on exercising to lose weight.

Just look at what they've done...Hospital Dietician Sue Maggio is proud of the weight lost by employees and friends at Glades General Hospital. Following American Heart Association guidelines, the group have lost almost 400 pounds.

ranges from implementing new water pumping practices to experimental chemical treatment systems and clean up of sugar mills. Several parts of the overall program have been put in place and are functioning, while others will require continued experimentation and monitoring to measure long range effectiveness.

"Based on our experience to date, we are confident that farmers can reduce significant amounts of the phosphorus in farm water runoff," Baker said. "More importantly, we believe our work here demonstrates our good faith as a contributing partner in improving South Florida's environment."

The SWIM plan, proposed by the South Florida Water Management District, requires a reduction of 150 metric tons of phosphorus at the primary pumps. In April 1992 the farmers outlined a plan in two phases which they hope will achieve that goal.

The first phase includes steps farmers could take in the short term which would reduce phosphorus by 100 tons annually. The steps include new pumping practices; reducing non-farm sources such as sugar mills and urban phosphorus runoff; and implementing best management practices from the University of Florida Institute for Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS).

An additional 25-ton reduction in phosphorus would be achieved through the two experimental restoration projects the District has in progress (the Holy Land Project and the Everglades Nutrient Removal Project).

U.S. Sugar implemented new pumping practices based upon extensive computer modeling on all of the company's land in June, 1992.

Staff Builders, a new home health care organization comes to the area

Staff Builders, a home health care service with over 130 offices nationwide, has opened an office in Belle Glade in the Carter Electric building on east Avenue E, Suite 201.

Branch Manager Willie F. Lawrence said the office has been open for about three weeks and will serve Western Palm Beach County.

"We had a lot of clients in the Glades and saw other needs that weren't being met," he said. "There is such a need out here."

He said the company is committed to providing the highest quality, most cost-effective home health care services to people in need in the security and comfort of their home whenever possible.

"We have 45 clients so far," said Mr. Lawrence, "and we expect that number to increase."

Mr. Lawrence is from the Glades and says he understands the needs of the people in this area. He said the staff and nurses are also local.

Diane Timoney, director of community education for Staff Builders, said the company is a national corporation established in 1961 with headquarters in New York but has local ownership in West Palm Beach.

"This way we have the corporate support but decisions can be made quickly on a local level," she said.

Ms. Timoney said they are working with the Comprehensive Aids Program (CAP) as well as negotiating with Hospice to do sub-contracting.

In addition to private payment Ms. Timoney said they handle Medicaid and Medicare. Through Staff Builders, consultation and care coordination services are available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Their specialty services include the care of individuals requiring high-tech home care (IV care, antibiotic therapy, enteral/parenteral nutrition, chemotherapy and transfusions).

They also assist people in need of ventilators and sufferers of senile dementia and Alzheimer's disease, terminally ill patients, women experiencing high risk pregnancies, patients recuperating from operations and victims of accidents.

Mobile homes are in disrepair

I'm a concerned citizen. I was driving through the trailer parks here in Belle Glade to find a lot to rent and I was amazed at how many old trailers there were and how they were falling down, falling off their supports and they really looked bad.

Who do you contact to get something done about these trailers and get them fixed up so we would have nice places to live out here?

If we had a hurricane come through here like Andrew did south of us, there wouldn't be anything left of the trailer parks around here. Editor's note: We spoke with Gene Simmons, administrator of the Planning and Building Department for the City of Belle Glade. He said there are about three or four trailer parks in the city - others have trailers on lots that have been grandfathered in. When those trailers are removed, another trailer will not be allowed on the lot.

He said many trailers are in disarray and his office responds to all telephone complaints. If they receive a call about a trailer, they will notify the owner that they have received a complaint and go out and look over the situation. They will then let the owner know what is needed to bring the trailer up to code. If the owner does not bring the mobile home up to code, they will have to answer to the Code Enforcement Board.

Reporting was biased

This is in reference to your article on the NAACP. It is a shame that your paper is trying to displace the role of the NAACP by not reporting everything, or misrepresenting the truth.

Mr. Konchellah is a very active member of this community, who cares about all people. Attacking him personally is attacking the black leadership.

Thank God someone is finally speaking up against injustice.

Your reporting on the meeting at the city hall was biased. You left off the outburst by Steve Weeks and wrongfully claimed that the people who showed up at city hall were from outside the city limits.

You should be more responsible for your reporting.

Editor's note: Thank you for calling Speak Out. Your comments are appreciated. Please see the "Clarification" below.

Clarification

In a front page story in last week's edition of The Sun it was stated "NAACP protests arrests of 19 for voter fraud" and "citizens living outside the city limits showed up in force" at the Belle Glade City Commission meeting.

It was pointed out to us by Larry Konchellah, President of the Glades Chapter of the NAACP, that we had no way of knowing how many of those in attendance were non-residents of the city.

That's correct. We do not know how many were residents living in Palm Glades, 715 Mobile Home Park or Okeechobee Center.

Mr. Konchellah also thought it was very important to include in the story the "he said/she said" confrontation between Commissioner Steve Weeks and Sandra Rhames, one of the people arrested for voter fraud in the September 22 runoff.

It was not our intent to censor the story. The story was 17-inches in length and contained two sidebars. Unlike other news media who covered the story, we are a weekly paper and are unable to run several stories in one week on the same subject. We had to let our readers know about the arrests, the sequence of events leading up to the arrests and names of those arrested, all in one story.

We tried to give our readers as many facts as possible in our limited space.

During the commission meeting, Commissioner Weeks made several people in the audience angry when he said it was unfortunate that 19 people lied when asked whether they live in the city. He said that had caused a tainted election.

Ms. Rhames went to the microphone and expressed her anger at Commissioner Weeks' comment. She said "I'm one of those you called a liar. You don't know nothing about me. Nobody here knows nothing about me. How would you feel if I called you a Klansman?"

Many in the audience demanded Commissioner Weeks apologize for his statement. He did not.

Cynthia Larramore said she wanted the commissioners to appoint a committee to investigate the city's election process. She gave names of those in the audience she would like to see appointed to this committee. The commission took no action.

Setting the record straight

Dear Editor:

I, Mary Frances Brown would like to clarify what was written about me regarding city commissioner.

My name is Mary Frances Brown, age 36. I am a Medical Receptionist at Planned Parenthood.

Subsidy of EMH not just used for Glades residents

Dear Editor:

A recent editorial in the Palm Beach Post advocated closing Pahokee's Everglades Memorial Hospital primarily based on the fact that the Health Care District subsidizes Everglades Memorial with $3 million.

I wrote a letter to the editor of The Post explaining one of the major causes of the subsidy. As we have come to expect in the Glades, the Post censored out the meaningful portions of my letter, leaving it rather innocuous.

If you have space available, I would appreciate your printing my letter for Glades residents to consider. If Pahokee's hospital closes, the indigent's problem would be transferred to Glades General.

Thank you.

Wayne A. Boynton

Editor's note: Following is the unedited letter written to the Palm Beach Post by Mr. Boynton.

Dear Editor:

Your articles and editorials continue to try to convince the taxpayers of eastern Palm Beach County that their taxes are being wasted by keeping Everglades Memorial Hospital open in Pahokee. Please allow me to comment.

One editorial calls having two hospitals in the Glades a "wasteful duplication of services."

We should not measure the need for a hospital solely on population - it should be based on the mileage that emergency vehicles must travel to reach a hospital. Closing Pahokee's hospital would mean that the residents of the northwestern corner of Palm Beach County would have to travel 15 to 20 miles to Belle Glade's hospital.

How would a seriously injured employee at the Palm Beach Post's downtown headquarters feel if he knew he had to be transported to the nearest full-service hospital and it was in North Palm Beach or in Boynton Beach? (These hospitals are actually closer than 15 miles, but I allowed for traffic.)

Decisions by the County Health Care District can not be based on age or conditions of facilities, but I want everyone on the east coast to know that the hospital in Pahokee is a new, modern, beautiful building, not an old, dilapidated relic of the past. Adjacent to the hospital are many new doctors' clinics, which would probably close up shop if the hospital were closed.

Closing Pahokee's hospital does not necessarily mean that all of its potential non-emergency patients would go to Belle Glade's hospital. Most of them would probably go to one of Wellington's two hospitals.

Let me point out here that this is one of the reasons that the Wellington Hospitals' representative on the Health Care District has supported the closing of Everglades Memorial.

Lastly, let me set the record straight on the main issue. Your editorial has stated that the Health Care District is sending $3 million of subsidy to Everglades Memorial just to keep it open. This statement will surely outrage the taxpayers of Palm Beach County. Your articles are only giving one side of the coin.

(1) Part of that $3 million comes from the taxpayers themselves in northwestern Palm Beach County.

(2) The $3 million only amounts to a few dollars per capita for Palm Beach County residents. That is not much money to help people who do not have all of the amenities available to those who live on the urban east coast.

(3) That $3 million is not necessarily spent on the residents of Western Palm Beach County. Thousands of indigents from Glades, Hendry, Okeechobee, Martin, and other counties travel to Pahokee's hospital for free medical care because of Palm Beach County's liberal health care laws. How do I know this - because my wife was an admission clerk for three years at Everglades Memorial Hospital!

Stop the abuse and maybe the hospital would not need the extra $3 million.

In conclusion, so that there is no misunderstanding by your readers - the residents of Pahokee do not want to close Belle Glade's hospital. They would like to see two equally equipped, acute-care facilities, one in each city. In spite of the opinions of the Palm Beach Post, both hospitals are needed.

Respectfully,
Wayne A. Boynton

Most tax returns filed are incorrect, claims tax expert

By Henry Schindall
Business and Tax Consultant
Boca Raton

"In my long experience (40 years) with all kinds of income tax returns," says Henry Schindall, tax consultant, "I have found more than half contain mistakes. Most people pay more taxes than the law requires."

He maintains this is inevitable. The law and regulations have become so complex that nobody understands them. Even experienced practitioners get frustrated and must look up imprecise answers, continuously research the voluminous and detailed rules full of exceptions, gray areas subject to interpretation, ambiguities, changes from year to year.

Except for people with the simplest financial situation, taxpayers who try to understand the law and prepare their own returns often feel that would be foolhardy. They throw up their hands in frustration, and turn to tax preparers.

They then heave a sigh of relief, believing the tax preparer will take care of everything - for a small fee. They think they're off the hook, and are no longer responsible.

Unfortunately, studies have shown that preparers, like taxpayers, are prone to make errors.

One study showed that from 40% to 60% of returns by preparers were erroneous! This is not surprising, when we realize how difficult it is to try to keep up with an ever-more complicated law. We now have some 50,000 pages of it. And much of it changes every year, with a new tax act by Congress, or even every week as new rulings come out. Before tax practitioners can digest the changes, the changes are changed again.

How to solve this problem? There is only one answer. Scrap the whole thing and start fresh with a brand new, simple law. Make simplicity and understandability the overriding principle.

Elliott

Thomas L. Elliott, 81, former Pahokee resident and a member of a pioneering Everglades family, died January 31 in Columbus, Ohio, of Alzheimer's Disease.

Services and burial were in Shelbyville, Tennessee. Mr. Elliott and his family moved to Florida from Tennessee, arriving in Pahokee in 1922.

They made the final leg of the trip on a barge across Lake Okechobee since no roads led into the area from their direction of travel at that time.

The Elliotts were among the early settlers that carved a civilization out of the Everglades wilderness. With their fellow pioneers, they made the Glades one of the world's most productive agricultural regions.

Mr. Elliott's father, J. Benton, was a farmer and most of the family of seven children helped him plant, cultivate, and harvest the winter crops when they first arrived.

Later, Mr. Elliott's brother, B. Elliott, established the first Ford dealership in Palm Beach County, in Pahokee. B. Elliott also served as a member of the Florida House of Representatives, and as its Speaker, in the late 1940s and early 1950s.

Thomas Elliott was associated with his brother in the auto business and later purchased and operated the dealership. He was also a vegetable contractor during World War II, harvesting the crops around Pahokee in the winter then moving to the Carolinas as the produce matured in that area.

Later, Mr. Elliott operated used car and salvage businesses in Pahokee and Belle Glade.

The Elliott's Ford garage served as a community shelter when hurricanes threatened the area.

In 1934, Mr. Elliott married the former Wilma Faulk of Shelbyville, Tennessee, and they had two sons, Thomas L. Jr., now of Stamford, Connecticut, and Larry B., of Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Elliott was a charter member of the Pahokee Lancers Club and Mr. Elliott a member of the Ixora Circle of the Garden Club.

Mr. Elliott's hobbies included flying light aircraft and playing the guitar.

Mel Tillis, country singing star, in his autobiography credited Mr. Elliott as being one of the Pahokees who taught him to tune and play a guitar.

The Elliotts left the Glades in 1962 and he subsequently worked as a securities salesman and bookkeeper in Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia.

Besides his wife and sons, Mr. Elliott is survived by six grandchildren, ten great-grandchildren, and three sisters: Lorraine Doolittle of Orlando; Hazel Trueblood of Bradenton; Juanita McLarty of Athens, Georgia.

Lady Raiders win 100th straight regular season game

Pahokee's Lady Blue Devils put up strong stand, but...

Historic action...from last Thursday night's game between Glades Central Community High School's Lady Raiders and Pahokee's Lady Blue Devils. The Raiders won, but the short-handed Blue Devils put up a strong battle, scoring 15 points against the first-ranked Raiders. The Blue Devils had only five players on the roster for the game.

Coaching duties...Lady Raider Head Coach Graham Frost, center, shouts encouragement to his charges Thursday night in Pahokee. The Lady Raiders beat Pahokee's Lady Blue Devils 83-15 for Glades Central's 100th consecutive regular season victory. Coach Frost said the worst is yet to come, referring to upcoming district playoffs. It could have been much worse for the Blue Devils; they had only five girls show up to play.

SUNPHOTO BY CHIP NEWTON

Pahokee Middle Senior High School's Lady Blue Devils did the impossible: they fielded a team with only five girls on the roster, met Glades Central Community High School's Lady Raider basketball team, and scored 15 points against them.

For the Raiders, unbeaten this season (and last season, and the one before that, and the one before that...) it almost seemed business as usual.

But it wasn't: it was the Raiders' 100th consecutive regular season win.

They last lost a regular season game to Fort Lauderdale-Westminster Academy on December 2, 1988. More than four years ago.

Wow. The record is historic: no other team in any sport can claim a similar streak.

Coach Graham Frost said the biggest challenge is ahead in the playoffs. "They're all real hungry," he said of his upcoming opponents. So are the Raiders.

Pahokee boys beat Pope; break 100 pts

Pahokee Middle Senior High School's boys basketball team went from a losing streak to a winning streak last week, scoring their first win this season last Tuesday night, and on Friday night, the Blue Devils scored 103 points in a win over Pope John Paul.

The 103-point score marks the first time in the school's history that the boys have scored over 100 points.

Tyrone Richardson scored 38 points to lead the Blue Devils to victory. He hit eighteen from the floor, two of which were three-pointers.

Tyrone Smith added 25 points; Jeremy Hanna added 12; Denorse Mosley and Andre Dent each hit for nine; Paul Bowles scored six; Bennfield and Tally Jackson each scored two points.

Athlete of the Week

Athlete of the Week... is Pahokee's Tabitha Atkins. Coach Ron Asbury says she's one of his strongest players. She hit two shots Thursday, one of which was a three-pointer, against the Raiders.

MIGRAINE

Also called sick headaches, a typical migraine attack begins with a dull throbbing ache in one area of the head and progresses to a piercing pain. These tortuous attacks may be preceded by a change in the field of vision - a flickering before the eyes, flashes of light or a partial blocking of the vision. They are sometimes accompanied by nausea or vomiting. They are seldom relieved by aspirin. Their duration is from 2 to 48 hours.
